

The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, November 6. 1717.

London, November 6.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

From the Hague Courant, dated Nov. 12.
Smyrna, September 30.

THE Consternation among the Turks is incredibly great, upon the News which is now last arrived of the Loss of Belgrade, but without knowing whether that Fort was surrendered by Capitulation, or upon Discretion. The Turkish Troops who were in the Army, and were ordered to march, were not allowed to lodge in the great Tagma, it being refused to them at Adrianople and Constantinople. And even Entrance is denied to those Troops into this City; but they are immediately sent forwards to their respective Quarters, to avoid all Disorder, the common Cry being now for Peace.

Naples, Oct. 19. Yesterday arrived here the Pope's Gallies from the Levant, with their Return to Civita Vecchia. Also 200 German Soldiers are arrived here from Prussia in Macedonia, for the reinforcing of this Kingdom, and they will be followed by more Troops. We hear that our Gallies having received Advice, that two of our Tartanes with Soldiers bound for Sardinia, were surrounded by the Spaniards, under the Castle of St. Donfacio, were sail'd thither to relieve them; and that they have since, not knowing that Cagliari was surrendered, with great Danger, landed the Men in that Island. According to the Letters from Otranto of the 15th Instant, a Bark was arrived there from Sta. Maura with Advice, that the Venetian Lesser Fleet was sail'd from Zante to Corfu, and had there taken in Mortars, Gunpowder, Artillery and Ammunition, with some German Soldiers of that Garrison, to go to attack Preveza and Voimizza.

Rome, Oct. 23. On Saturday arrived here an Express from Vienna, with some Colours and Horse Tails taken from the Turks in the late Battle, and on Monday Count Gallasch presented them in the Name of the Emperour to the Pope. They will be hang'd up in two Churches, and Te Deum has been sung upon that Occasion. Cardinal Gualtieri had on Wednesday last a long Audience of the Pope, wherein, as 'tis said, he discours'd with his Holiness upon the Arrest of the Lord Peterborow, and afterwards went to Urbino, where he will tarry some Days.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated Nov. 12.

Genoa, Oct. 24. The Marquis de St. Philippe has made here great Rejoicings for the taking of Cagliari. The Garrison of that Place having been transported hither, is marched for Milan. 'Tis said the Court of Madrid has resolv'd to have a Fleet at Sea still more numerous next Year than they have had this.

Milan, Oct. 26. The Earl of Peterborow, who went out of Fort Urbano the 15th, went the same Day to Bononia, where the Cardinal Legate gave him the next Day a magnificent Entertainment in Publick, with great Marks of Esteem. He declar'd to him in particular, that he was very sorry that he had too credulously given way to his Arrest, and that he had been reprimanded for it by the Pope, who disapprov'd of his Proceeding; adding, that he had been deceiv'd by false Reports, and had paid too much Regard to the Instances that had been made to him on the part of the Chevalier de St. George. And 'tis even said, that this last nam'd has sent to my Lord, to assure him that he had been deceiv'd, and to desire him to excuse it. We shall see whether the Court of Great Britain will be contented with this Satisfaction. 'Tis reported, that the Court of Madrid has demanded of the Republick of Genoa, the Liberty of landing Troops there, to pass over to the Parmesan and other Provinces, as Occasion requires.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Nov. 11.

Venice, Oct. 29. We hear by a French Ship ar-riv'd from Cyprus, that they met the 2d Instant the Turkish Fleet, consisting of 40 Ships and 14 Gallies, in the Channel of Venice, fleeing their Course towards Constantinople; and the same Ship having got into Zante, found there our great Fleet, but the latter was sail'd away. And last Monday we receiv'd Letters by the Way of Otranto from Corfu, written by the Captain General Filant the 11th, which advices that upon the Notice they had receiv'd that the Turkish Fleet was sail'd by Cape St. Angelo, a Council of War was call'd, wherein it was resolv'd, that the Venetian and Vornizan.

Buda, Oct. 26. Yesterday was brought hither on board a Transport Ship from Belgrade, a Piece of Cannon with Turkish Letters on it, of 24 Foot and three quarters long, carrying a Bullet of 110 pound weight, and requiring 33 pound of Powder to charge it. Travellers from Belgrade report, that part of the Garrison were in readiness to march out, but 'twas unknown upon what Design. However, 'twas supposed they were intended for Zwerick.

Vienna, Oct. 30. Yesterday a great Council was held at the House of Prince Eugene of Savoy, upon the Affairs of Italy; and 'tis supposed that a considerable Body of Imperial Troops will suddenly march to the Kingdom of Naples, which now seems threatened with immediate Danger, and 'tis said that the Pope has given Leave for their Passage thro' the Ecclesiastical State.

From the Amst. Gazette, dated Nov. 12.

Vienna, Oct. 30. On Thursday last was celebrated at Court with great Magnificence, the Anniversary of the Queen Dowager of Spain, Sister to the Emperor's Mother, who that Day arriv'd into her 51st Year, being born the 28th of October, 1667. The Electoral Prince of Saxony is recover'd of his Illness, and 'tis said he will speedily have Audience of his Imperial Majesty. 'Tis assur'd that Prince Eugene will make a Tour this Winter to the Austrian Netherlands. In case the Turks think seriously of Peace, (which the great Preparations they are making for War, little indicate) Sir Robert Sutton and Mr. Stanyan will advance immediately to the Frontiers, to dispose all things for a speedy Accommodation. We hear from Transylvania, that they are at work in building Forts in the Places where the Tartars penetrated lately, and which were before thought unpassable. 'Tis confirm'd, that the Imperialists have gain'd a new Advantage in Moldavia, and advanc'd near Jassy, which occasion'd so great a Consternation in the Country, that the Inhabitants not affected to the Emperour, fled to Choczim and Bender, notwithstanding the Orders the Grand Seignior had sent them to join the new Hospodar.

Hague, Nov. 10. Count Volkra, Envoy Extraordinary of the Emperour, arriv'd on Sunday last at Rotterdam from London, and the contrary Winds having detain'd the Ships that bring his Baggage, he remains there as yet, and has sent an Express hither to fetch the Letters that lay for him. M. de Heydenfeld, Minister of the Elector of Bavaria, is departed from hence to Munich. M. Gansinet will in his Absence take Care of the Affairs of his Electoral Highness. Mr. Whitworth, Minister of his Britannick Majesty, has this Day given a great Entertainment to divers Foreign Ministers, and other Persons of Distinction, on Occasion of its being the Birth-day of his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. And this Evening there will be an Assembly and Ball at my Lady Cadogan's.

Lately arriv'd, and to be seen at the Globe and Duke of Marlborough's Head in Fleetstreet, A German born without Hands, Feet, or Thighs, (that never was in this Kingdom before) who does such miraculous Actions as none else can do with Hands and Feet. He has perform'd before most Kings and Princes in Foreign Countries; and has had the Honour to perform several times before His Majesty K. George. He makes a Pen, and writes several Hands as quick and well as any Writing Master; He draws Faces to the Life, Coats of Arms, Pictures, Flowers, &c. with a Pen, very curiously; Threads a fine Needle very quick; thrusts a Pack of Cards, and deals them very swift; plays well upon the Dulcimer; does many surprizing Things with Cups and Balls; plays at Skittles several ways very well; shaves himself very dexterously; and many other Things too tedious to insert here. He waits on Gentlemen and Ladies at their own Houses, at any Hour of the Day, if desired.

Lost on Friday Evening Oct. 25, out of a Coach, the Seat, being Drab-Colour Cloth, with worried Lace of the same Colour. Whoever will bring it to John's Coffee-house in Exchange Alley, shall have 10 s. for their Trouble, and no Questions ask'd.
